

Grave Mate Catalog

(2024.03 ~ 2024.05)

A survey on compatibility between two potential gravemates along with miscellaneous services

Julie Adams..... Brian Johnson
Samuel T. Becker..... Jenna W. Fields
Leonard Michaels..... Frederick Wallace
Margaret Bennett..... Isabella Gomez
Clara Sanchez..... Eileen Fitzgerald

Robert Collins..... Anthony Rivera
Edward Miller..... Charles Lee
Walter Jennings..... Harold Morgan
Evelyn Carter..... June Lawson
Martin Greene..... James Kim

Elisa Bertoni..... Min-ji Kim
Charles Harding..... Thomas Bennett
Margaret Sinclair..... Harold Finch
Henry Wallace..... George Thompson
Emily Watson..... Linda Hayes

Grave Mate Catalog

(2024.03 ~ 2024.05)

(GM #001 & GM #002)

(GM #001 & GM #002)

(GM #001)

(03.06.2024)

Julie Adams

Born: 01/04/1946

Died: ??/??/????

Julie Adams, age 68, peacefully passed away on [Date of Passing]. Born on [Date of Birth] in [Place of Birth], Julie lived a life marked by love, adventure, and a deep appreciation for the beauty of the world around her.

Julie was a free spirit, known for her infectious laughter, her boundless creativity, and her unwavering zest for life. She leaves behind a legacy of joy and inspiration that will continue to resonate with all who knew her.

Throughout her life, Julie pursued her passions with enthusiasm and determination. An accomplished artist, she expressed herself through her vibrant paintings, which captured the essence of nature and the human experience with unparalleled beauty and grace.

Julie's love for travel took her to far-off lands and exotic destinations, where she immersed herself in different cultures, sampled local cuisines, and forged connections with people from all walks of life. Her adventurous spirit knew no bounds, and she embraced every opportunity to explore and discover new horizons.

In addition to her artistic pursuits, Julie was a devoted advocate for environmental conservation and animal welfare. She volunteered her time and resources to various organizations dedicated to protecting the planet and its inhabitants, leaving a lasting impact on the world around her.

Julie's greatest joy in life was her family and friends, whom she cherished with all her heart. She is survived by her loving partner of 40 years, David, her children, Sarah and Alex, and her grandchildren, Lily and Ethan. Her warmth, compassion, and unwavering support touched the lives of all who had the privilege of knowing her.

A celebration of Julie's life will be held on [Date of Celebration] at [Location of Celebration], where family and friends will gather to honor her memory and share stories of her remarkable adventures and enduring legacy.

In lieu of flowers, the family requests that donations be made to [Charitable Organization] in Julie's memory, to continue her legacy of compassion and commitment to making the world a better place for future generations.

Julie's family would like to express their heartfelt gratitude to the staff at [Name of Hospice or Care Facility] for their compassionate care and support during her final days.

May Julie rest in peace, knowing that she lived a life filled with love, laughter, and boundless joy, and that her spirit will continue to shine brightly in the hearts of all who knew and loved her.

(03.06.2024)

(GM #002)

Brian Johnson

Born: 05/07/1946

Died: ??/??/????

Brian Johnson, age 72, passed away peacefully on [Date of Passing]. Born on [Date of Birth] in [Place of Birth], Brian lived a rich and fulfilling life filled with love, laughter, and meaningful contributions to his community.

Brian was a devoted husband, father, and friend, known for his compassionate heart and unwavering commitment to those he loved. He is survived by his beloved wife of 50 years, Sarah, his children, Michael and Emily, and his grandchildren, Ethan and Olivia.

Throughout his life, Brian was passionate about education and dedicated his career to shaping the minds of future generations. He spent over three decades as a beloved teacher at [Name of School], where he inspired countless students with his enthusiasm for learning and his genuine care for each individual.

Brian's impact extended far beyond the classroom. He was an active member of his community, volunteering his time and talents to various charitable organizations and causes close to his heart. His kindness and generosity touched the lives of many, leaving a lasting legacy of compassion and service.

In his free time, Brian enjoyed exploring the great outdoors, whether it was hiking in the mountains, fishing by the lake, or simply tending to his garden at home. He had a deep appreciation for nature's beauty and found solace in its tranquility.

Brian will be remembered for his infectious smile, his warm sense of humor, and his unwavering optimism in the face of adversity. He approached life with a sense of curiosity and wonder, always eager to learn and grow as an individual.

Although Brian is no longer with us in body, his spirit will live on in the hearts of those who knew and loved him. He leaves behind a legacy of love, kindness, and service that will continue to inspire others for generations to come.

A celebration of Brian's life will be held on [Date of Celebration] at [Location of Celebration]. In lieu of flowers, the family requests that donations be made to [Charitable Organization] in Brian's memory.

Brian's family would like to extend their heartfelt gratitude to the staff at [Name of Hospice or Care Facility] for their compassionate care and support during his final days.

(GM #001 & GM #002)

(03.06.2024)

*Conversation Taken From GMC Summit 2024

Brian-----Hi Julie, nice to see you again. How have you been?
Julie-----Hi Brian, I'm doing well, thank you. How about you?
Brian-----I'm good, thanks for asking. Did you do anything interesting lately?
Julie-----Not really, just been busy with work mostly. What about you?
Brian-----Same here, work keeps me occupied. But I've been thinking about trying out a new hobby.
Julie-----Oh, that sounds fun. Any ideas on what you want to try?
Brian-----I was thinking about taking up photography. It seems like a great way to capture memories.
Julie-----That's a fantastic idea. Photography can be very therapeutic too.
Brian-----Yeah, I've heard that. Have you ever tried it?
Julie-----A little bit, but nothing serious. I mostly use my phone to take pictures.
Brian-----Well, maybe we could go on a photo walk together sometime.
Julie-----That sounds like fun, I'd like that.
Brian-----Great! We'll have to plan it soon. So, what else do you enjoy doing in your free time?
Julie-----I like to read and spend time outdoors, hiking or just sitting in the park.
Brian-----Reading is something I enjoy too. Do you have a favorite book?
Julie-----It's hard to pick just one, but I really enjoy classic literature. How about you?
Brian-----I'm more into non-fiction, particularly biographies.
Julie-----Interesting. So, what's the last book you read?
Brian-----It was a biography of Winston Churchill. Fascinating character.

(03.06.2024)

(GM #001 & GM #002)

50-----Hi Julie, nice to see you again. How have you been?
50-----Hi Brian, I'm doing well, thank you. How about you?
55-----I'm good, thanks for asking. Did you do anything interesting lately?
55-----Not really, just been busy with work mostly. What about you?
60-----Same here, work keeps me occupied. But I've been thinking about trying out a new hobby.
60-----Oh, that sounds fun. Any ideas on what you want to try?
65-----I was thinking about taking up photography. It seems like a great way to capture memories.
65-----That's a fantastic idea. Photography can be very therapeutic too.
70-----Yeah, I've heard that. Have you ever tried it?
70-----A little bit, but nothing serious. I mostly use my phone to take pictures.
75-----Well, maybe we could go on a photo walk together sometime.
75-----That sounds like fun, I'd like that.
80-----Great! We'll have to plan it soon. So, what else do you enjoy doing in your free time?
80-----I like to read and spend time outdoors, hiking or just sitting in the park.
85-----Reading is something I enjoy too. Do you have a favorite book?
85-----It's hard to pick just one, but I really enjoy classic literature. How about you?
90-----I'm more into non-fiction, particularly biographies.
90-----Interesting. So, what's the last book you read?
95-----It was a biography of Winston Churchill. Fascinating character.

(Dialogue)

11

(GM #001)

(03.06.2024)

This is a custom made gravestone texture based on GM#001's answers to our questionnaire.

Personal Q's----- GM #001's Q.01 Value: 0.90
GM #001's Q.02 Value: 0.90
GM #001's Q.03 Value: 0.90

Connection Q's----- GM #001's Q.04 Value: 0.90
GM #001's Q.05 Value: 0.90
GM #001's Q.06 Value: 0.90
Stability Q's----- GM #001's Q.07 Value: 0.90
GM #001's Q.08 Value: 0.90
GM #001's Q.09 Value: 0.90

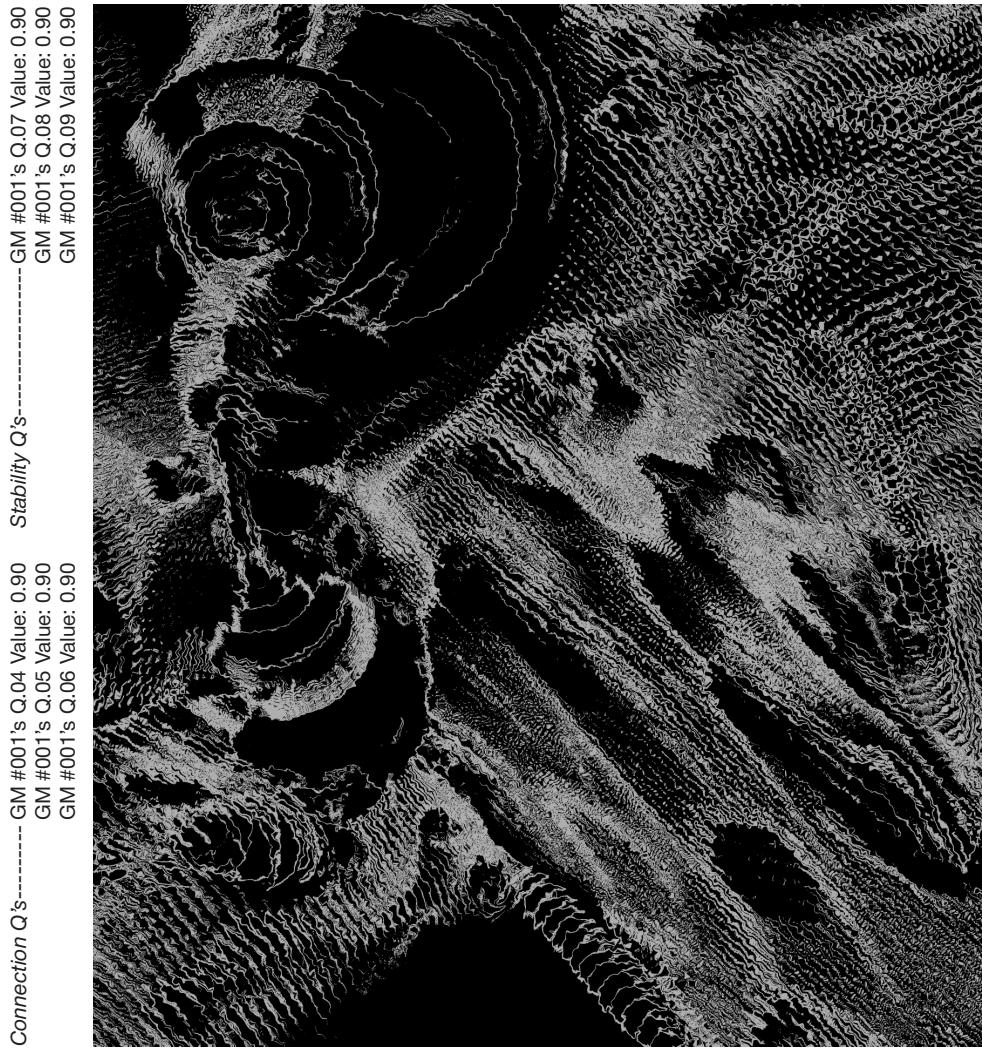

We have asked Julie for her bucket list and these are what he has in mind:

Enjoy wine tasting in Tuscany.
Learn to play an instrument.
Join a photography club.
Road trip along Route 66.
Attend a relaxing yoga retreat.
Volunteer at an animal shelter.
Explore nearby gardens and reserves.
Take cooking lessons.
Attend classical music concerts.
Relax in a mountain cabin getaway.

1. How anxious are you of facing death?
-----□-----
2. How lonely do you feel currently?
-----□-----
3. How motivated are you to complete your bucketlist?
-----□-----
4. How emotionally connected are you to your GM?
-----□-----
5. How frequently have you interacted with your GM?
-----□-----
6. How much time are you willing to spend with your GM?
-----□-----
7. How cooperative is your GM?
-----□-----
8. How willing are you to adjust burial plans for your GM ?
-----□-----
9. How much do you fear potential conflict with your GM?
-----□-----

(03.06.2024)

(GM #001)

1. How anxious are you of facing death? -----
2. How lonely do you feel currently? -----
3. How motivated are you to complete your bucketlist? -----
4. How emotionally connected are you to your GM? -----
5. How frequently have you interacted with your GM? -----
6. How much time are you willing to spend with your GM? -----
7. How cooperative is your GM? -----
8. How willing are you to adjust burial plans for your GM ? -----
9. How much do you fear potential conflict with your GM? -----

We have asked Brian for his bucket list and these are what he has in mind:

Summit Mount Kilimanjaro
Learn to play the guitar
Volunteer at an animal sanctuary
Write a memoir
Explore the Amazon Rainforest
Complete a marathon
Start a community garden
Master a new language
Build a treehouse
Attend a meditation retreat

(Gravestone Texture)

13

(GM #001)

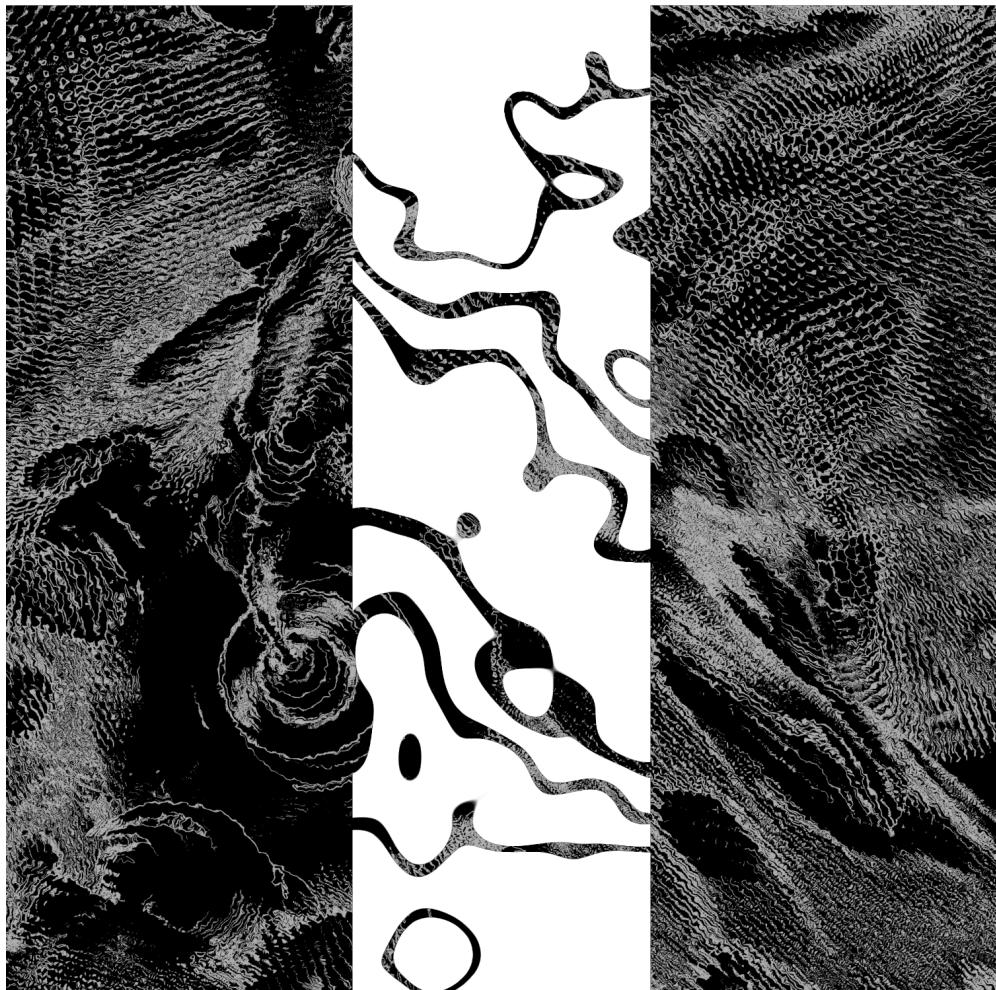

(03.06.2024)

Q3 Compatibility: 20%

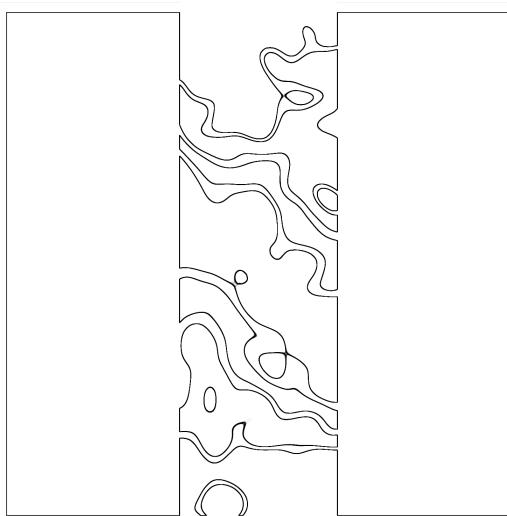

Q4 Compatibility: 25%

Q1 Compatibility: 20%
Q2 Compatibility: 15%

Q5 Compatibility: 15%
Q6 Compatibility: 30%

1. How comfortable do you feel about each other?
-----|
2. How comfortable are your families about the burial?
-----|
3. How similar are your hobbies?
-----|
4. How similar are your views in life?
-----|
5. How much do you enjoy each other's company?
-----|
6. How motivated are you to finish the bucket list together?
-----|

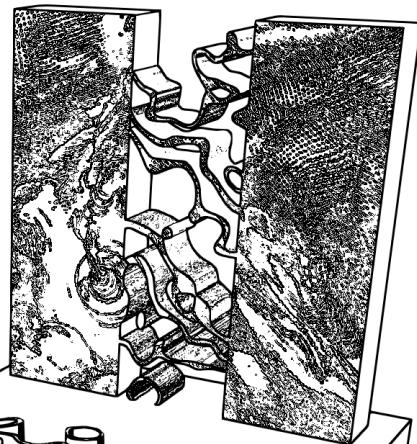

(Monument)

(03.06.2024)

(GM #001)

Based on their preferences, this is a curated list of activities both Julie and Brian can partake in:

- Visit all seven continents.
- See the Northern Lights.
- Go on a safari in Africa.
- Learn a new language.
- Write a book.
- Take a hot air balloon ride.
- Walk the Great Wall of China.
- Take a photography class together.

Volunteer abroad in a teaching program.

Explore the national parks of the U.S.

Take a cooking class from a renowned chef.

Start a blog about their adventures.

Learn to play a musical instrument.

Attend the Olympics.

Go whale watching.

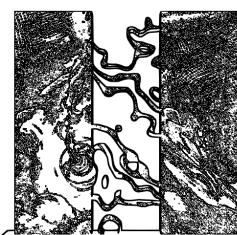

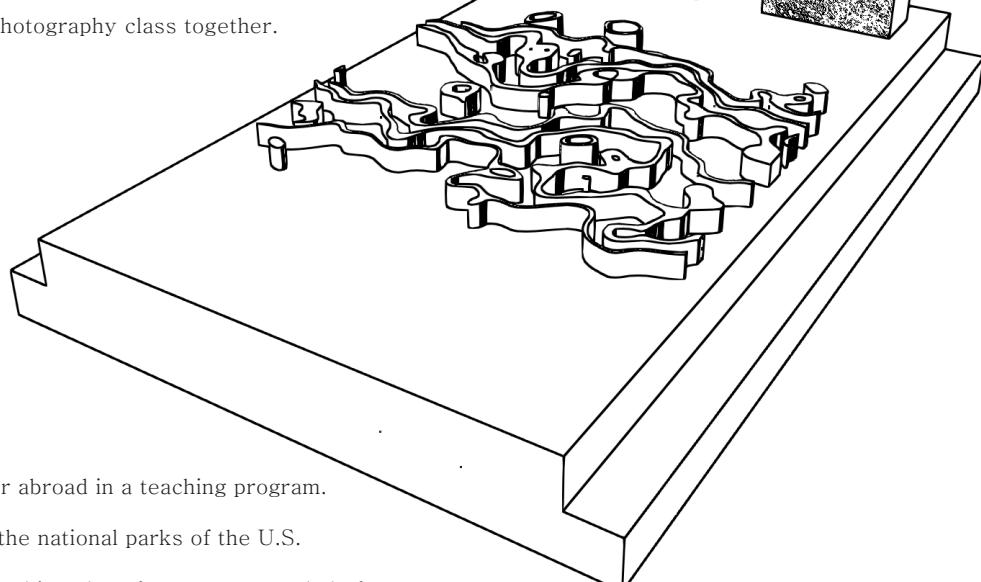

Take part in a meditation retreat.

Hike the Appalachian Trail.

Learn to scuba dive.

Attend a major film festival.

Take a road trip across Europe.

(GM #003)

(03.07.2024)

Samuel T. Becker

Born: 05/03/1942
Died: ???/???/????

With profound sadness, we announce the passing of Samuel Thomas Becker on [DATE OF DEATH]. Samuel, a beloved pillar of the Denver community, passed away peacefully surrounded by his family at the age of 82, after a courageous battle with illness.

Born on May 3, 1942, in Omaha, Nebraska, to Jonathan and Mary Becker, Samuel was the eldest of three children. He exhibited a strong sense of justice and empathy from an early age, traits that later defined his career and personal life. Samuel attended the University of Nebraska, where he earned his degree in Law, graduating at the top of his class. Shortly after, he relocated to Denver, Colorado, where he met and married the love of his life, Ellen Hughes, in 1966.

Samuel quickly made a name for himself in Denver, not only as a skilled attorney but also as a community advocate. He founded Becker & Associates in 1971, a law firm that became noted for its ethical standards and dedication to justice. His professional life was distinguished by his passion for legal aid and civil rights, often providing pro bono services to those unable to afford legal representation.

Outside of his professional life, Samuel was a devoted family man. He and Ellen raised three children, Michael, Linda, and Patricia, instilling in them values of kindness, education, and community service. A lover of the outdoors, Samuel was an avid fisherman and an enthusiastic restorer of classic cars, a hobby he shared with his children and later his grandchildren.

Samuel's commitment to his community extended beyond the legal field. He served on several boards, including the Denver Community Food Bank and the local chapter of the American Red Cross. His efforts were instrumental in various initiatives aimed at improving the lives of Denver residents.

He leaves behind his wife, Ellen; their three children; seven grandchildren; and a community grateful for his decades of service. Samuel also leaves a legacy of compassion, integrity, and relentless advocacy for justice that will continue to inspire those who knew him.

A celebration of Samuel's life will be held on May 3, 2024, at St. Mark's Episcopal Church, where he was a longstanding member. The family respectfully requests that in lieu of flowers, donations be made to the Denver Community Food Bank, an organization close to Samuel's heart.

Samuel's memory will live on not just in his accomplishments, but in the warmth and generosity he brought to his everyday interactions. He will be deeply missed by all who had the pleasure to know him.

(03.07.2024)

(GM #004)

Jenna W. Fields

Born: 07/12/1948

Died: ??/??/????

It is with a heavy heart that we announce the passing of Jenna Winona Fields, who left us peacefully on [DATE OF DEATH], at her home in Portland, Oregon. Jenna was 76 years old and had recently faced a brief but fierce battle with illness, showing the resilience and determination that characterized her entire life.

Born on July 12, 1948, in San Francisco, California, Jenna was a precocious child with an innate curiosity about the world around her. She pursued her passion for science and technology at Stanford University, where she earned her degree in Computer Science. Jenna's early career began in Silicon Valley, where she quickly distinguished herself as a brilliant software engineer and visionary entrepreneur.

In 1983, Jenna founded Fields Technologies, which under her leadership, became a pioneer in developing innovative software solutions that transformed business practices. As CEO, she steered the company through dynamic changes in technology, making significant impacts on the industry and setting benchmarks for others to follow.

Jenna was not only a leader in business but also a passionate advocate for women in STEM. Through her mentorship, public speaking, and by setting a powerful example, Jenna encouraged countless young women to pursue careers in technology. Her work extended beyond the corporate sphere as she supported various initiatives to promote diversity and inclusion within the tech community.

Beyond her professional achievements, Jenna was known for her vibrant personality, sharp wit, and generous spirit. She was an enthusiastic traveler, a lover of fine arts, and a patron of local artists. Her home was a gathering place for lively discussions, laughter, and shared discoveries.

Jenna is survived by her younger brother, Aaron Fields, and her beloved niece, Sophie Fields, along with a vast network of friends, colleagues, and those she mentored. Jenna was a figure of immense warmth and intelligence, and she will be profoundly missed by all who knew her.

A private memorial service will be held to celebrate Jenna's life and legacy. In recognition of her commitment to supporting women in technology, her family suggests that donations in her memory be made to the National Girls Collaborative Project.

Jenna's remarkable journey leaves an indelible mark on both the technological world and the hearts of those fortunate enough to have known her. Her legacy of innovation, courage, and kindness will continue to inspire and influence generations to come.

(GM #003 & GM #004)

(03.07.2024)

*Conversation Taken From GMC Summit 2024

Samuel-----It's great to meet someone with such a strong presence in the tech industry. What got you started in this field?
Jenna-----It was mainly curiosity and the challenge of solving complex problems. How about you? What drew you into law?
Samuel-----I've always had a strong sense of justice, wanted to make a tangible impact. But enough about work. Do you have any hobbies?
Jenna-----I actually enjoy photography, capturing landscapes mostly. It seems we both appreciate the finer details, though in very different contexts.
Samuel-----Photography sounds interesting, but I've never had the eye for it. I prefer the tangible—restoring cars, fishing. There's something about working with your hands.
Jenna-----I can see the appeal in that, though it's not for me. I'm much more digital.
Samuel-----Indeed, our worlds are quite different, Jenna.
Jenna-----Yes, it seems so. Well, it was nice chatting with you, Samuel.

(03.07.2024)

(GM #003 & GM #004)

50-----It's great to meet someone with such a strong presence in the tech industry. What got you started in this field?

50-----It was mainly curiosity and the challenge of solving complex problems. How about you? What drew you into law?

45-----I've always had a strong sense of justice, wanted to make a tangible impact. But enough about work. Do you have any hobbies?

40-----I actually enjoy photography, capturing landscapes mostly. It seems we both appreciate the finer details, though in very different contexts.

35-----Photography sounds interesting, but I've never had the eye for it. I prefer the tangible—restoring cars, fishing. There's something about working with your hands.

30-----I can see the appeal in that, though it's not for me. I'm much more digital.

25-----Indeed, our worlds are quite different, Jenna.

20-----Yes, it seems so. Well, it was nice chatting with you, Samuel.

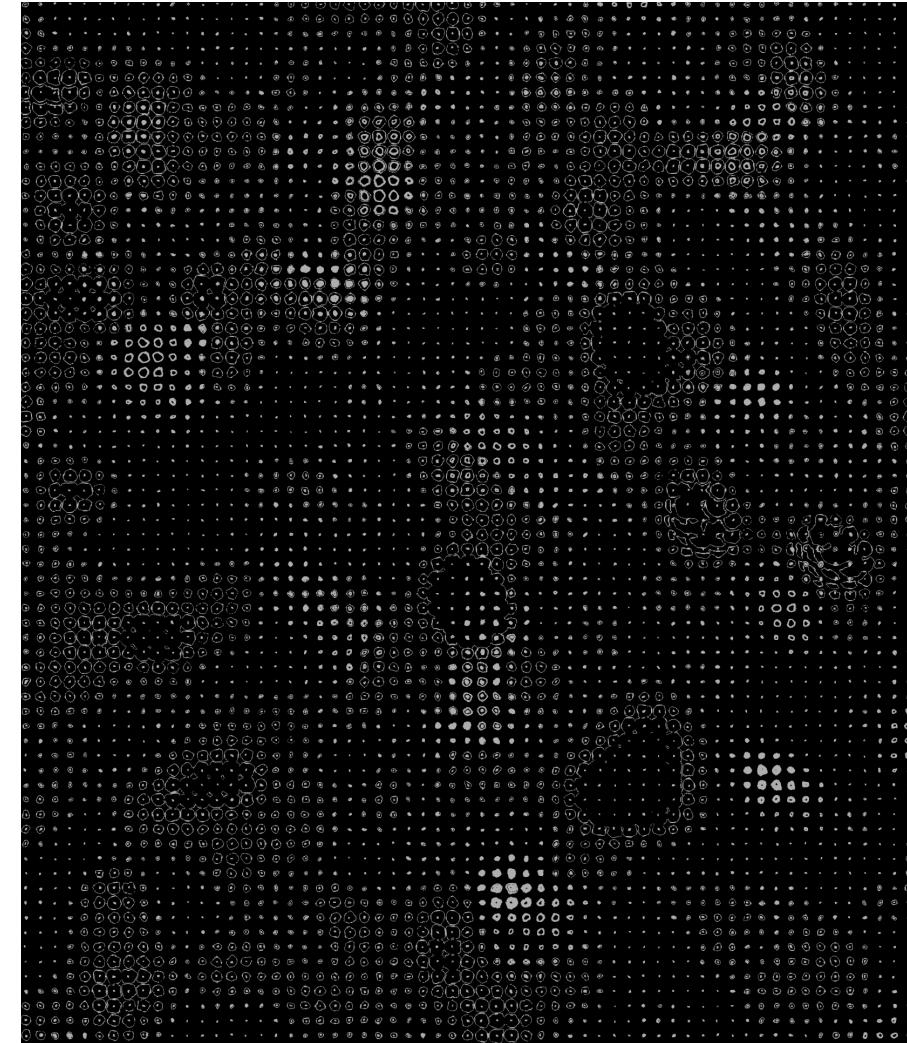

(Dialogue)

19

(GM #003)

(03.07.2024)

This is a custom made gravestone texture based on GM#001's answers to our questionnaire.

We have asked Samuel for his bucket list and these are what he has in mind:

Fish in the Alaskan wilderness.
Complete a cross-country road trip in a classic car.
Write a memoir.
Teach a law seminar.
Volunteer abroad.
See the northern lights.
Restore an antique boat.
Hold a family reunion.
Visit all major U.S. national parks.
Learn to cook gourmet meals.

20

Connection Q's----- GM #003's Q.04 Value: 0.25
GM #003's Q.05 Value: 0.65
GM #003's Q.06 Value: 0.40

Stability Q's----- GM #003's Q.07 Value: 0.15
GM #003's Q.08 Value: 0.20
GM #003's Q.09 Value: 0.30

1.How anxious are you of facing death?

|-----□-----|

2.How lonely do you feel currently?

|-----□-----|

3.How motivated are you to complete your bucket list?

|-----□-----|

4.How emotionally connected are you to your GM?

|-----□-----|

5.How frequently have you interacted with your GM?

|-----□-----|

6.How much time are you willing to spend with your GM?

|-----□-----|

7.How cooperative is your GM?

|-----□-----|

8.How willing are you to adjust burial plans for your GM?

|-----□-----|

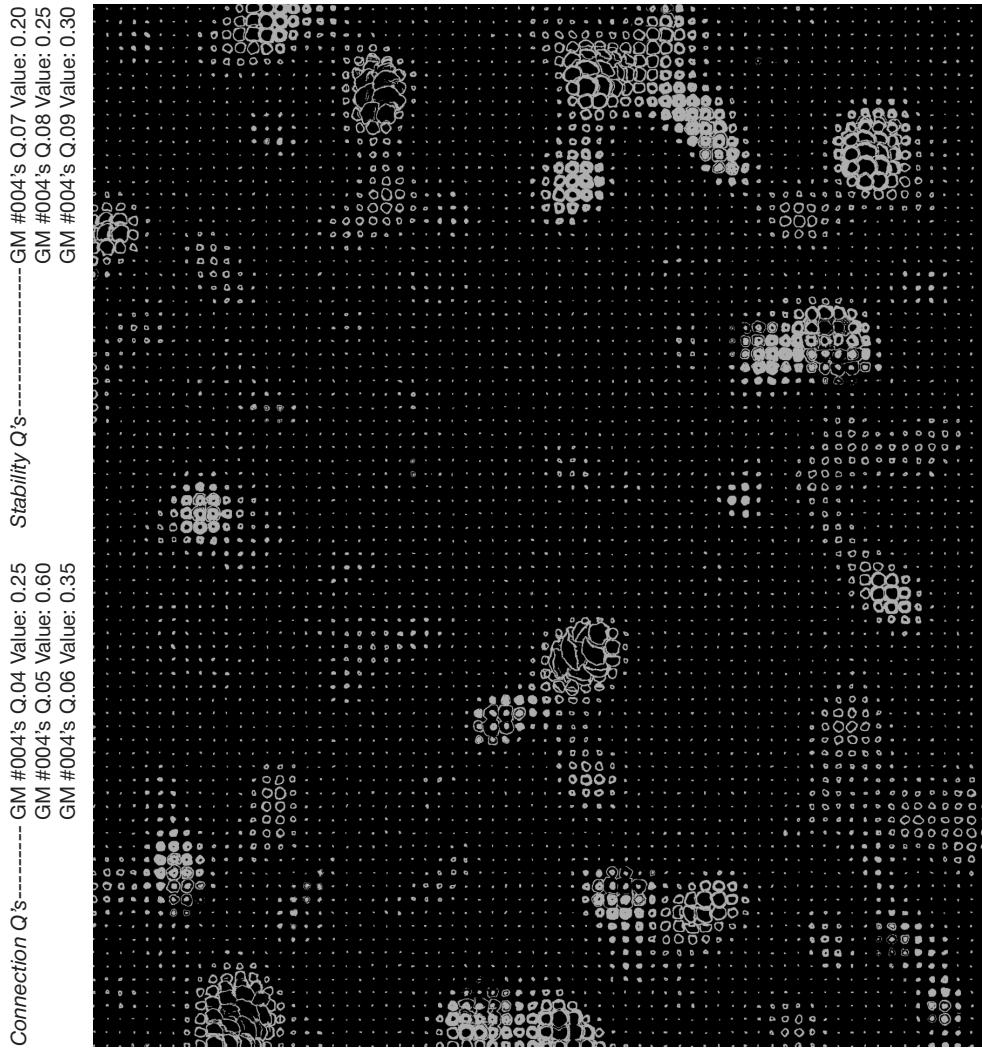

9.How much do you fear potential conflict with your GM?

|-----□-----|

(Gravestone Texture)

(03.07.2024)

(GM #004)

- Connecction Q's----- GM #004s Q.04 Value: 0.25
GM #004s Q.05 Value: 0.60 Stability Q's----- GM #004s Q.06 Value: 0.25
GM #004s Q.07 Value: 0.30
GM #004s Q.08 Value: 0.25
GM #004s Q.09 Value: 0.30
1. How anxious are you of facing death?
 2. How lonely do you feel currently?
 3. How motivated are you to complete your bucket list?
 4. How emotionally connected are you to your GM?
 5. How frequently have you interacted with your GM?
 6. How much time are you willing to spend with your GM?
 7. How cooperative is your GM?
 8. How willing are you to adjust burial plans for your GM?
 9. How much do you fear potential conflict with your GM?

We have asked Jenna for her bucket list and these are what she has in mind:

Attend a TED Talk live.
Mentor a startup in Silicon Valley.
Publish a book on women in tech.
Travel to see the tech capitals of the world (e.g., Silicon Valley, Bangalore, Tel Aviv).
Take a hot air balloon ride over Cappadocia.
Learn to code in a new programming language.
Speak at a major technology conference.
Visit the Great Wall of China.

(Gravestone Texture)

21

This is a custom made gravestone texture based on GM#001's answers to our questionnaire.

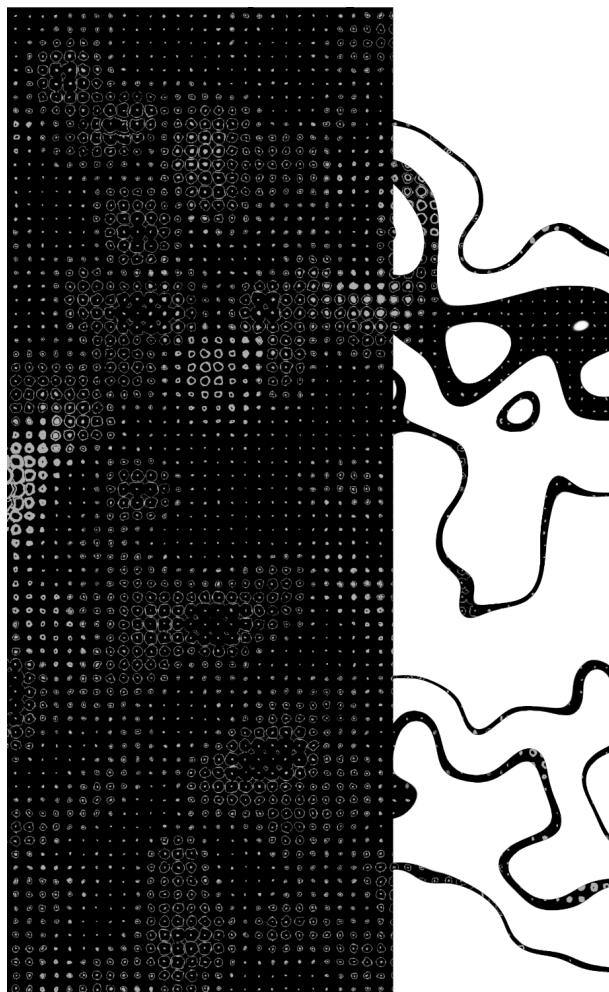

Personal Q's----- GM #004's Q.01 Value: 0.35
GM #004's Q.02 Value: 0.30
GM #004's Q.03 Value: 0.80

(GM #003 & GM #004)

(03.07.2024)

Q1 Compatibility: 30%
Q2 Compatibility: 90%

Q3 Compatibility: 20%

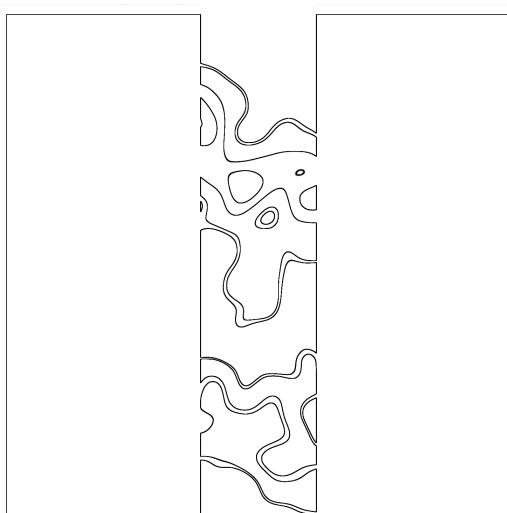

Q4 Compatibility: 15%

Q5 Compatibility: 30%
Q6 Compatibility: 35%

22

1. How comfortable do you feel about each other?
-----□-----
2. How comfortable are your families about the burial?
-----□-----
3. How similar are your hobbies?
-----□-----
4. How similar are your views in life?
-----□-----
5. How much do you enjoy each other's company?
-----□-----
6. How motivated are you to finish the bucket list together?
-----□-----

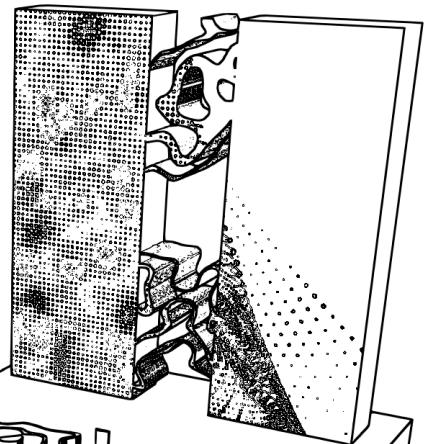

(Monument)

(03.07.2024)

(GM #003 & GM #004)

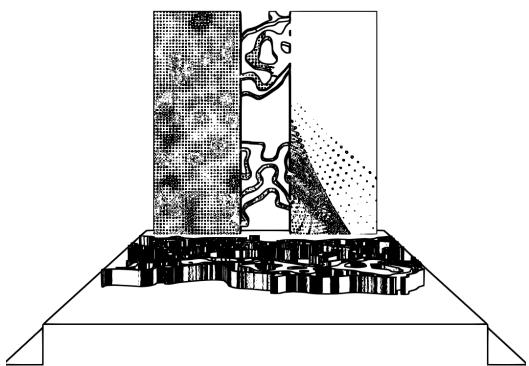

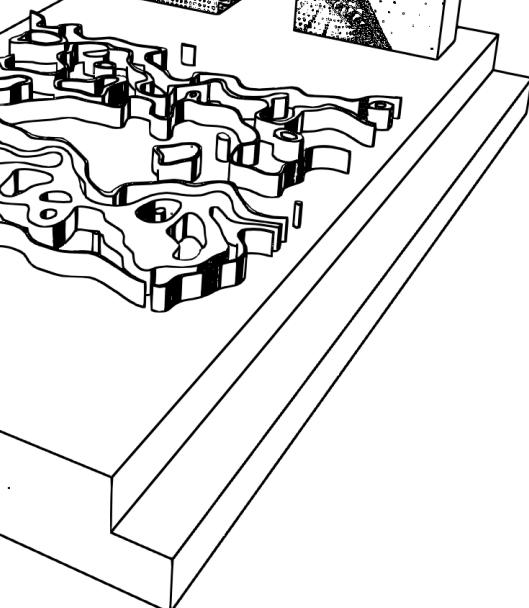

Based on their preferences, this is a curated list of activities both Samuel and Jenna can partake in:

- Explore historical sites in D.C.
- Cybersecurity workshops for seniors.
- Launch a legal-tech podcast.
- Write a technology guide for seniors.
- Attend a TED Talk on aging.
- European river cruise through tech cities.
- Set up a senior-focused legal clinic.
- Develop a senior legal app.

Tour national parks with senior guides.

- Seminar on AI ethics.
- Participate in a charity walk.
- Visit sustainable senior communities.
- Share stories at local events.
- Join a tech-themed book club.
- Attend virtual tech-law conferences.
- Volunteer in educational outreach.
- Attend a Supreme Court hearing.
- Visit the Computer History Museum.
- Online mentoring sessions.
- Establish a student scholarship.

(Monument)

23

Leonard Michaels

Born: 04/07/1935

Died: ???/???/????

Leonard "Lenny" Michaels, aged 89, passed away peacefully on [DATE OF DEATH], at his home in Asheville, North Carolina. Born on April 7, 1935, in Detroit, Michigan, to parents who were both teachers, Lenny grew up in a household filled with love for knowledge and innovation. This environment shaped him into a pioneering spirit who would later make significant contributions to the automotive industry.

Lenny dedicated over 40 years to automotive design and manufacturing, working with some of the major car companies in America. He was known for his creative solutions and was part of the team that introduced several safety features which are now standard in vehicles. His work not only showed his ingenuity but also his commitment to improving the lives of everyday people.

A lifelong bachelor, Lenny was an avid collector and restorer of vintage radios, a hobby that started in his youth and continued until his last days. His home was a mini-museum, filled with pieces from different eras of broadcasting history. Lenny often joked that he preferred the company of his radios over people, as they were "less talk and more music."

Despite his jests, Lenny was deeply admired by his peers and friends for his sharp wit and generous nature. He mentored many young engineers and designers, sharing his knowledge and passion for cars and radios alike. Though he never married or had children of his own, Lenny was a beloved figure in his community, often participating in local events and fundraisers, especially those that involved classic cars.

With few close relatives, Lenny's social circle was his family. This circle included friends from his career, fellow radio enthusiasts, and neighbors in Asheville, where he had moved after retiring. They remember him as a man who lived life on his own terms, with a robust sense of humor and a deep well of kindness.

A small, informal gathering to celebrate Lenny's life will be held by his closest friends at his favorite local cafe—a place where he spent many mornings debating car designs and the golden age of radio. In lieu of flowers, donations can be made to the American Heart Association, a cause Lenny supported after his own diagnosis with heart disease.

Lenny's passing marks the end of an era for those who knew him. He leaves behind memories filled with laughter, ingenuity, and the faint crackle of radio waves. His legacy, like the radios he loved so much, will continue to resonate with all who knew him, bringing nostalgia and inspiration.

(03.14.2024)

(GM #006)

Frederick Wallace

Born: 02/23/1942

Died: ???/???/????

On the quiet evening of October 18, 2024, Frederick Wallace, aged 82, passed away in the serene setting of his care facility in Sarasota, Florida. Born on February 23, 1942, in a quaint Vermont town, Frederick was the only child of George and Helen Wallace, a couple deeply rooted in their local community. He inherited his parents' love for history, which guided his academic and professional journey throughout his life.

Frederick pursued his passion for history at the University of Vermont, where he majored in American History. His keen interest in the early periods of American development led him to a distinguished career as a historian and author. Over the decades, Frederick wrote several influential books that shed new light on the formative years of the United States. His work is celebrated for its meticulous research and compelling narrative style, making significant contributions to academic circles and history enthusiasts alike.

After his retirement, Frederick continued to engage with historical societies and often delivered lectures at universities and public libraries. His commitment to education was profound, believing it to be a vital tool in understanding and shaping the future. Despite his professional successes, Frederick led a simple life, preferring the solitude of his study and the company of his vast collection of books and manuscripts.

With no immediate family to survive him, Frederick's friends and colleagues in the historical community came to be his family. He was known among them for his dry wit, generosity in sharing knowledge, and somewhat reclusive nature. His annual holiday gatherings were a warm, if rare, window into his otherwise private world.

Frederick's final years were spent in Sarasota, where he had moved to enjoy the warmer climate and continue his research. Even as his health declined, his spirit remained indomitable, and he was often seen discussing historical theories with visitors or penning articles for various scholarly publications.

A private memorial service, reflective of Frederick's low-key demeanor, will take place to honor his life and legacy. His extensive personal library, a treasure trove of historical knowledge, will be donated to the local university, ensuring that his love for history benefits future generations. In lieu of flowers, contributions can be made to the Historical Society, supporting the cause closest to Frederick's heart.

Frederick Wallace's passing marks the loss of a brilliant mind and a gentle soul whose life's work enriched our understanding of the past. His legacy will continue to inspire and educate, a fitting tribute to a life well-lived.

(Obituary)

25

(GM #005 & GM #006)

(03.14.2024)

*Conversation Taken From GMC Summit 2024

Frederick-----I've heard a bit about your work with classic cars. I must say, it's intriguing how you preserve history through mechanics.

Lenny-----Thanks, Frederick. It's a passion that keeps me connected to the past, much like your own work, I suppose. Speaking of the past, how do you feel about this idea of being buried next to someone you've just met?

Frederick-----It's a novel concept, certainly. It gives a new perspective on legacy, doesn't it? How about yourself? Any thoughts on sharing a final resting place in this manner?

Lenny-----I'm still wrapping my head around it, to be honest. It's a bit out there for me, but then, life's been full of surprises. Switching gears, have you ever come across any vintage cars in your historical studies?

Frederick-----Occasionally, yes. They sometimes appear in the background of significant events or personal stories from the past. It's fascinating how objects can be just as much a part of history as events.

Lenny-----That's true. I once restored a car that was rumoured to have been at a major historical event. Restoring it felt like preserving a piece of that history.

Frederick-----That must be quite rewarding, seeing history come alive again. On the topic of the burial, do you think there's a historical significance to this idea? Could we be starting a new tradition?

Lenny-----Perhaps. It's an interesting blend of community and individual legacy. Not sure if it's for everyone, but it could certainly make a mark on how we view afterlife arrangements.

Frederick-----Indeed, blending legacies. It's a modern take on old traditions of familial burial plots, just with a contemporary community twist.

Lenny-----Exactly, it's about connections, whether through time or between individuals. Speaking of which, do you ever collect anything from the periods you study?

Frederick-----I tend to collect stories more than objects. But I do keep a few mementos—mostly books and letters. They're tangible connections to the lives I research.

Lenny-----Books and letters have a charm, don't they? Just like cars, they tell stories of their era. Maybe this whole grave-mate idea isn't too far off from what we both do—keeping stories alive.

Frederick-----That's a thoughtful way to put it, Lenny. Keeping stories alive, indeed. Maybe there's more common ground here than we initially thought.

(03.14.2024)

(GM #005 & GM #006)

60-----"I've heard a bit about your work with classic cars. I must say, it's intriguing how you preserve history through mechanics.

60-----50-----Thanks, Frederick. It's a passion that keeps me connected to the past, much like your own work, I suppose. Speaking of the past, how do you feel about this idea of being buried next to someone you've just met?

55-----55-----It's a novel concept, certainly. It gives a new perspective on legacy, doesn't it? How about yourself? Any thoughts on sharing a final resting place in this manner?

65-----65-----"I'm still wrapping my head around it, to be honest. It's a bit out there for me, but then, life's been full of surprises. Switching gears, have you ever come across any vintage cars in your historical studies?

70-----70-----Occasionally, yes. They sometimes appear in the background of significant events or personal stories from the past. It's fascinating how objects can be just as much a part of history as events.

75-----75-----That's true. I once restored a car that was rumoured to have been at a major historical event. Restoring it felt like preserving a piece of that history.

60-----60-----"That must be quite rewarding, seeing history come alive again. On the topic of the burial, do you think there's a historical significance to this idea? Could we be starting a new tradition?

70-----70-----Perhaps. It's an interesting blend of community and individual legacy. Not sure if it's for everyone, but it could certainly make a mark on how we view afterlife arrangements.

80-----80-----Indeed, blending legacies. It's a modern take on old traditions of familial burial plots, just with a contemporary community twist.

85-----85-----Exactly. It's about connections, whether through time or between individuals. Speaking of which, do you ever collect anything from the periods you study?

90-----90-----I tend to collect stories more than objects. But I do keep a few mementos—mostly books and letters. They're tangible connections to the lives I research.

95-----95-----Books and letters have a charm, don't they? Just like cars, they tell stories of their era. Maybe this whole grave-mate idea isn't too far off from what we both do—keeping stories alive.

100-----100-----That's a thoughtful way to put it, Lenny. Keeping stories alive, indeed. Maybe there's more common ground here than we initially thought.

(Dialogue)

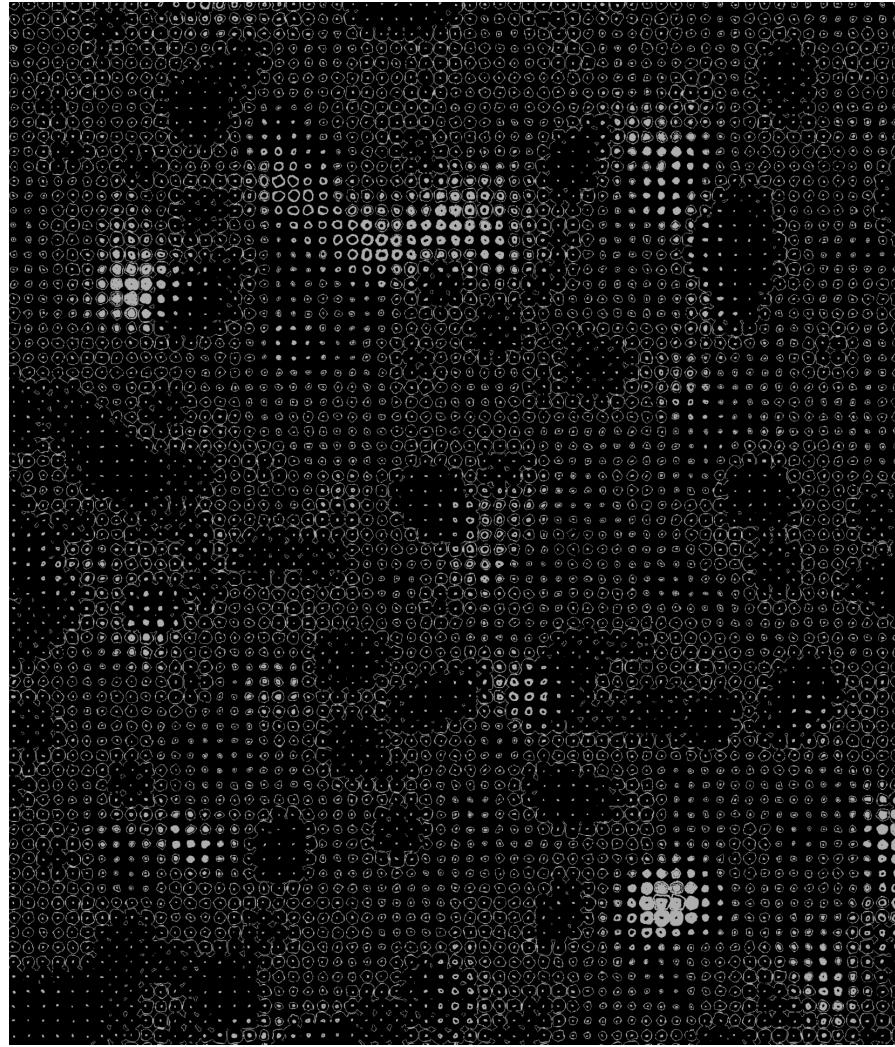

27

(GM #005)

(03.14.2024)

Personal Q's----- GM #005's Q.01 Value: 0.30
GM #005's Q.02 Value: 0.25
GM #005's Q.03 Value: 0.70

This is a custom made gravestone texture based on GM#001's answers to our questionnaire.

Connection Q's----- GM #005's Q.04 Value: 0.20
GM #005's Q.05 Value: 0.65
GM #005's Q.06 Value: 0.40

Stability Q's----- GM #005's Q.07 Value: 0.15
GM #005's Q.08 Value: 0.20
GM #005's Q.09 Value: 0.30

We have asked Leonard for his bucket list and these are what he has in mind:

Restore a rare 1920s classic car.
Visit the National Automobile Museum.
Attend the Pebble Beach Concours d' Elegance.
Complete a coast-to-coast road trip in a vintage car.
Start a community workshop for classic car enthusiasts.
Acquire a unique 1930s radio for his collection.
Host a classic car show in his hometown.

1.How anxious are you of facing death?

|-----□-----|

2.How lonely do you feel currently?

|-----□-----|

3.How motivated are you to complete your bucket list?

|-----□-----|

4.How emotionally connected are you to your GM?

|-----□-----|

5.How frequently have you interacted with your GM?

|-----□-----|

6.How much time are you willing to spend with your GM?

|-----□-----|

7.How cooperative is your GM?

|-----□-----|

8.How willing are you to adjust burial plans for your GM?

|-----□-----|

9.How much do you fear potential conflict with your GM?

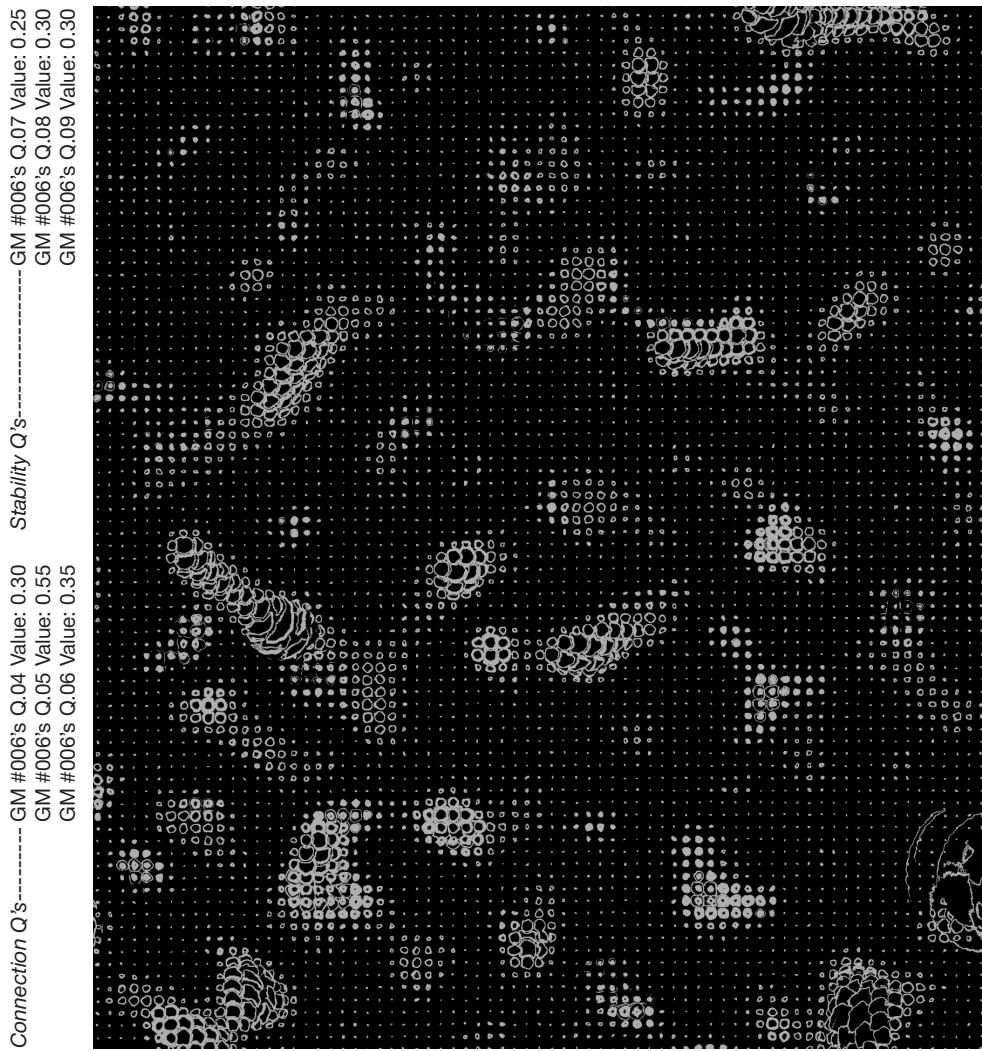

|-----□-----|

(03.14.2024)

(GM #006)

This is a custom made gravestone texture based on GM#001's answers to our questionnaire.

Personal Q's----- GM #006's Q.01 Value: 0.40
GM #006's Q.02 Value: 0.35
GM #006's Q.03 Value: 0.50

1. How anxious are you of facing death?
|-----|
2. How lonely do you feel currently?
|-----|
3. How motivated are you to complete your bucket list?
|-----|
4. How emotionally connected are you to your GM?
|-----|
5. How frequently have you interacted with your GM?
|-----|
6. How much time are you willing to spend with your GM?
|-----|
7. How cooperative is your GM?
|-----|
8. How willing are you to adjust burial plans for your GM?
|-----|
9. How much do you fear potential conflict with your GM?
|-----|

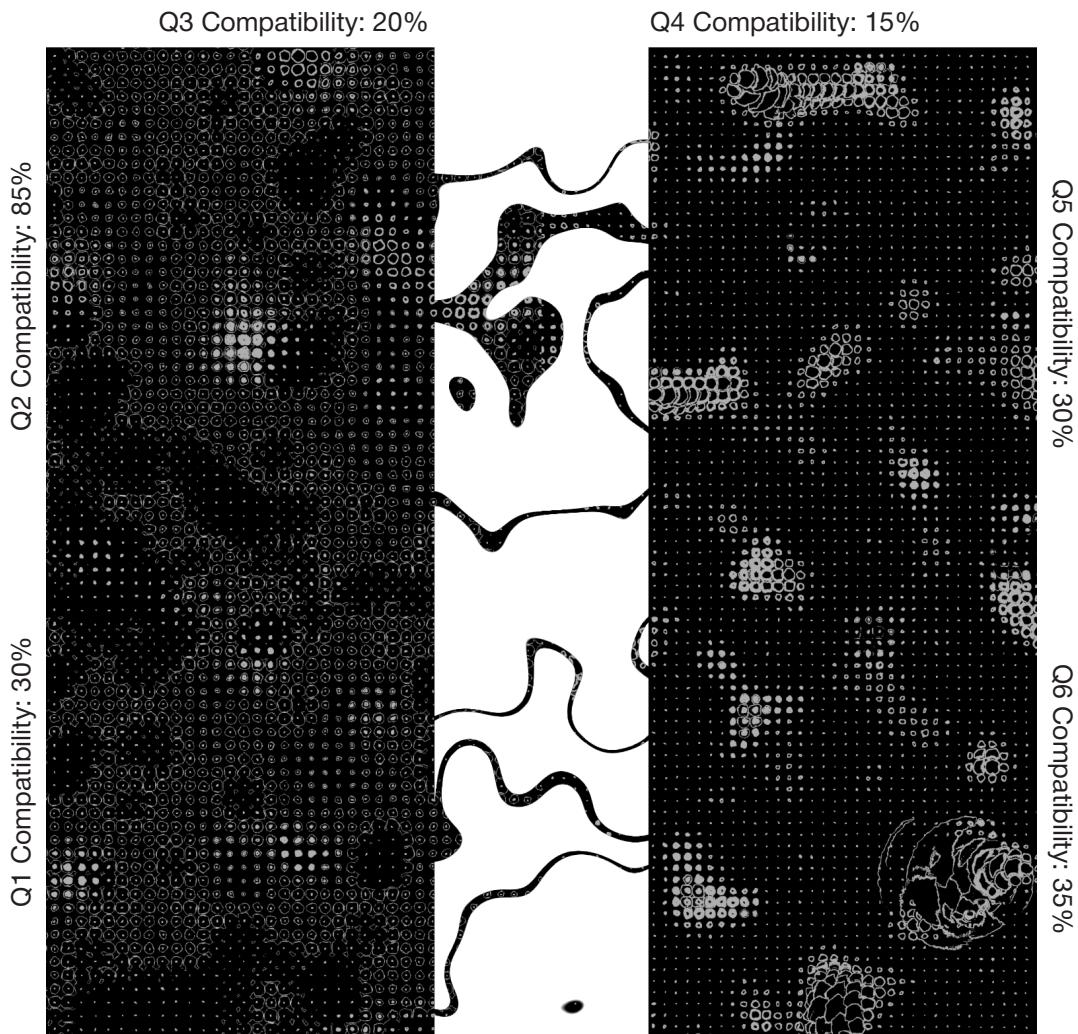

We have asked Frederick for his bucket list and these are what she has in mind:

- Visit the Library of Congress.
Publish a comprehensive book on colonial America.
Lead a historical tour of Revolutionary War sites.
Organize a symposium on early American history.
Curate a historical exhibit at a local museum.
Attend a prestigious history conference in Europe.

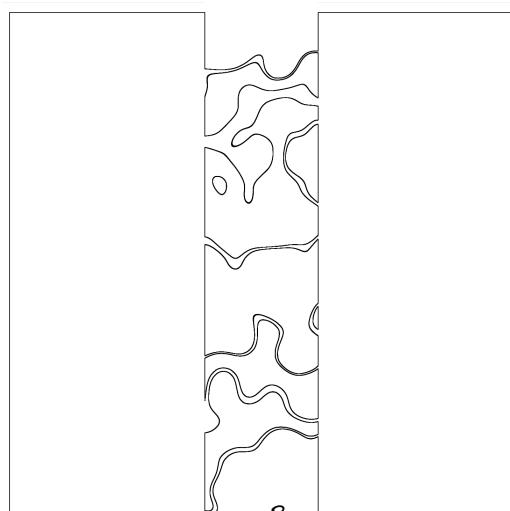

(Gravestone Texture)

(GM #005 & GM #006)

(03.14.2024)

1. How comfortable do you feel about each other?
-----□-----
2. How comfortable are your families about the burial?
-----□-----
3. How similar are your hobbies?
-----□-----
4. How similar are your views in life?
-----□-----
5. How much do you enjoy each other's company?
-----□-----
6. How motivated are you to finish the bucket list together?
-----□-----

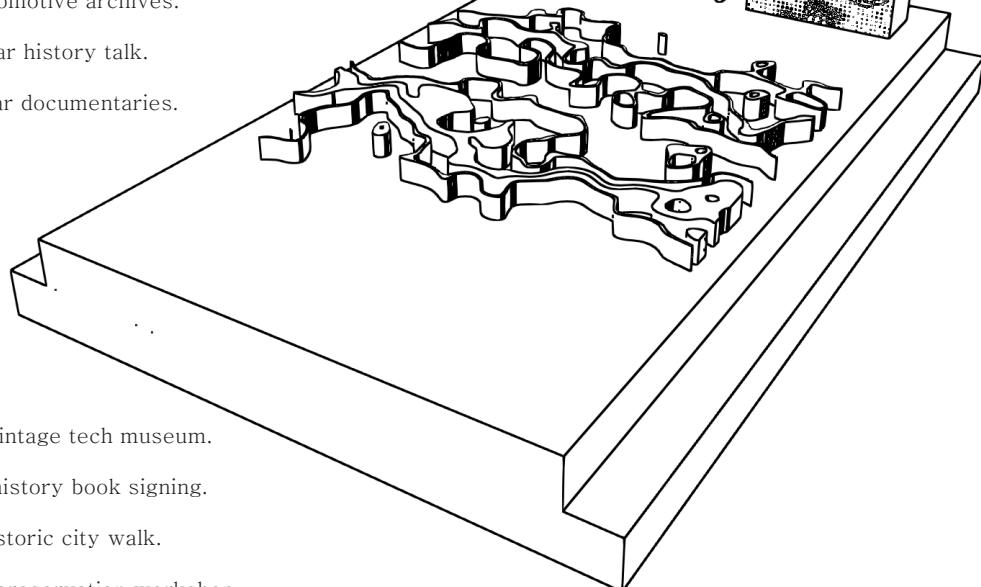

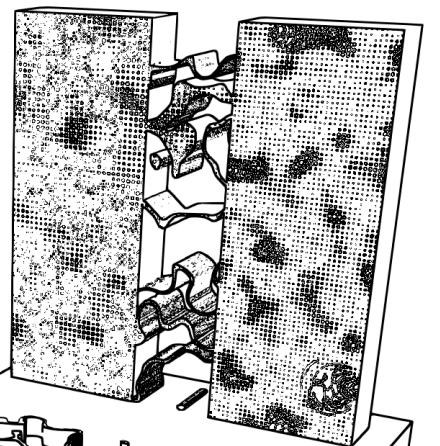

(Monument)

(03.14.2024)

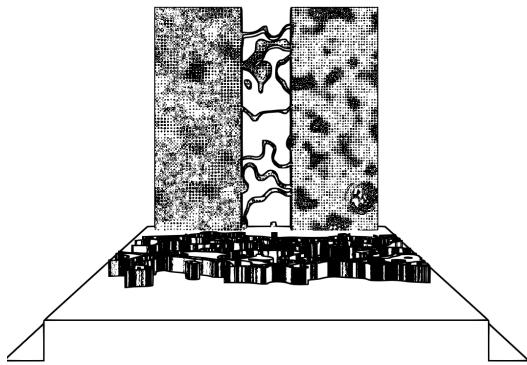

Based on their preferences, this is a curated list of activities both Leonard and Frederick can partake in:

- Visit a car museum.
- Attend a car auction.
- Explore historic automotive towns.
- Historic route road trip.
- Transportation history lecture.
- Collaborate on a car design article.
- Visit automotive archives.
- Host a car history talk.
- Watch car documentaries.

(GM #005 & GM #006)

- Tour a vintage tech museum.
- Go to a history book signing.
- Join a historic city walk.
- Vintage preservation workshop.
- Antique roadshow visit.
- Attend a 20th-century storytelling.
- Industrial revolution exhibition.
- Vintage car and costume event.
- Historical reenactment participation.
- Historical auction visit.
- Co-host a history and cars podcast.

(Monument)

(GM #007)

(03.16.2024)

Margaret Bennett

Born: 03/17/1942

Died: ???/???/????

Margaret "Maggie" Bennett, age 82, passed away peacefully on April 15, 2024. Born on March 17, 1942, in Kansas City, Missouri, she grew up with a love of books and a passion for learning that remained with her throughout her life. She married her high school sweetheart, Thomas, and together they built a life filled with love and laughter.

Maggie spent over four decades as a librarian at the Crescent Public Library, where she fostered a welcoming environment for readers of all ages. Her gentle smile and warm advice created a haven for the local community. After retirement, she focused on her love of gardening and remained an active member of her book club. She cherished the simple joys of life: conversations over tea, tending to her flowers, and sharing stories with friends.

Survived by her daughter, Linda, and her grandson, Oliver, Maggie will be dearly missed by all who knew her. A celebration of life will be held at St. Andrew's Community Hall on April 28, 2024, where her friends and family will gather to honor her legacy and share stories of her kindness. In lieu of flowers, donations can be made to the American Library Association.

